

2002 Training Program

Designed especially for Community Action Agencies

If your idea of planning is
"ready, fire, aim,"
you need some new ammunition.

"Anti-Poverty Planning, ROMA, and Outcomes for CAAs"

will give you a bulletproof road map for success.

Thursday, April 11 through Friday, April 12, 2002
9:00 am – 5:00 pm each day

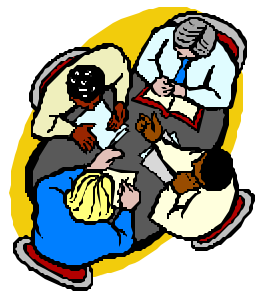

Community Action Partnership Training Center
1100 17th Street NW, Suite 500
Washington, DC

Registration Fees: $345 (Community Action Partnership members)
$395 (non-members)

Think you don't need to plan? Think again. Anti-Poverty Planning, ROMA, and Outcomes for CAAs will show you that a properly devised plan is the key to achieving your CAA's goals. Jim Masters will help you create a realistic planning process, develop workable outcome measures, and determine how broad your plan should be. He'll also give you tips for incorporating Head Start into your plan.

Other training topics include:

- Improving your CAA's planning process
- Using ROMA goals as the framework for your CAA-wide plan
- Understanding four process approaches to developing outcome measures
- Accessing the six most useful sources of outcome measures ideas
- Exploring four ways that Head Start can be part of your CAA strategic plan

Trainer

Jim Masters is president of the Center for Community Futures in Berkeley, California. During the past 36 years, he has worked with more than 500 CAAs and Head Start programs. Mr. Masters worked for the Office of Economic Opportunity and served in several appointed positions in New York City government. He literally "wrote the book" on planning for Community Action Agencies—"The CAA Planning Manual" was first published by the Community Action Partnership in 1990. Mr. Masters serves on the Office of Community Services' Monitoring and Assessment Task Force to help develop Results-Oriented Management and Accountability (ROMA) in the CAA network. He received a bachelor's degree in cultural anthropology and a master's degree in international business.
